Exploring the Impact of Your Adventure: Custer Gallatin National Visitor Use Survey

Bozeman, November 16, 2023— If you're curious about the impact your visit to Custer Gallatin National Forest has on the community, the National Visitor Use Monitoring Survey has got you covered. The survey is conducted by our staff members (usually toting a clipboard and rocking an FS uniform) and it estimates how many people recreate in the forest, what activities they engage in, how much they spend on their trip, and how satisfied they are with their visit. The survey is confidential and takes about ten minutes to complete.

By identifying recreation trends over time and providing estimates of the volume of recreation visitation, the survey helps us better manage the land and serve visitors like you. More importantly, it directly benefits the local economy. The information provided by the survey includes the economic impact of recreational visits on our community, which helps maximize results in tourism planning.

This year's survey, from October 1, 2023, through September 30, 2024, is focused on the Gardiner, Yellowstone, Bozeman, and Hebgen Lake Ranger Districts. This is the fifth round of NVUM surveys conducted on the forest, with the last conducted on these districts in 2018/2019.

So, next time you see a uniformed staff member of Custer Gallatin National Forest carrying a clipboard, shoot them a smile and take a moment to share your experiences. Your feedback directly contributes to shaping the future of the forest and the community for years to come!

If you want to check out past NVUM results, visit National Visitor Use Monitoring Program | US Forest Service \(usda.gov\).

FWP Recruiting Applicants for AmeriCorps Program

HELENA –After Hunter Sickerson graduated from MSU-Billings with honors, he knew he wasn't ready to settle down in a typical 8-to-5 job. He worked in the field of archeology, conducting surveys on archeological sites for a private firm until he heard about an opportunity for national service through Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks AmeriCorps.

“AmeriCorps is a unique opportunity that can open a person's view of the world in a new way,” Sickerson said.

As a heritage program specialist, Sickerson rerouted trails on Wildhorse Island at Flathead Lake State Park, renovated a native plant garden at Travelers' Rest State Park, accompanied a paleontology dig at Makoshika State Park and served meals to the community of Pryor at Chief Plenty Coups State Park.

“My favorite part of my service this past year was the friendships that grew out of a group of seeming strangers at first.” Sickerson said. “By the end, it felt like a small family.”

FWP is currently recruiting individuals to serve in 10-month AmeriCorps positions beginning in January. Applicants range in age from 18 to 80 and will serve and connect with the public at state parks, FWP regional offices and outdoor recreation sites across Montana.

Since the program's inception in 2012, FWP's AmeriCorps members have taught thousands of school children in outdoor classrooms, developed interpretive trail guides and signs and presented programs to diverse audiences from around the world.

FWP AmeriCorps members:

- Receive a living allowance of $19,538 over 44-week term of service and a $300 housing stipend per month.
- Receive an AmeriCorps education award of $7,395 upon successful completion of service. This award can be used to pay education costs at qualified institutions of higher education, for educational training and resources or to repay qualified student loans. Members aged 55 and over may transfer the education award to a child, grandchild or foster child.
- Are eligible for deferment on qualified student loans.
- Receive guaranteed health benefits and childcare assistance if qualified.
- Gain experience and training working in the fields of outdoor recreation, park management, interpretive services, education, community outreach and volunteer management.

“The payoff of the AmeriCorps program is only as good as the effort and dedication you put forth,” Sickerson said. “I'm happy I took the risk and the opportunity to join the FWP AmeriCorps program.”

For more information on the FWP AmeriCorps program, visit fwp.mt.gov/aboutfwp/employment/ameri-corps or email FWP AmeriCorps development specialist Katie Schlafke at katie.schlafke@mt.gov.
